The Merck Young Chemists' Symposium 2024 will take place from the 13rd to the 15th of November in Rimini (Italy), on the Adriatic Riviera of Romagna, in one of the best-known seaside resorts in Northern Italy.

The symposium will be held in the Hotel Sporting & Hotel Ambasciatori, ensuring an elegant, comfortable, and top-level 4*-superior hospitality.

This symposium will cover all the disciplines of Chemistry and is fully oriented to young researchers, such as MSc and PhD students, scholarship holders and post-doc fellows, as well as young researchers working in companies and other non-academic research institutes. Thanks to the active commitment of SCI in the European framework (as a society member of EuChemS), the event will have international character: it will be open to researchers coming from all over the world, will guest international plenary speakers, and English will be the official language.

Symposium members will present the results of their scientific research in front of an international audience, which will also include representatives of chemical companies and invited renowned scientists.

The conference is organized to allow each participant to contribute with anoral presentation, a poster, or a poster + flash presentation. All the accepted scientific contributions within the eventwill be collected in a citable international volume with ISBN code.

The deadline for abstract submission is July 22nd, 2024.

Thanks to the significant financial support from *Merck, which will contribute to the costs of accommodation and meals, the registration fees are particulary low (see the detailed list in the Registration form).

For all the details, please refer to the Registration form and the Abstract template [2] available here below, or contact [3] the Organizing Committee.
